

How to Line Your Shoebox with Parchment Paper

Simple Method

Step 1: Cut a long sheet of parchment paper. Cover the bottom of the box and let the extra hang over the lid.

Step 2: Place a layer of cookies on the parchment paper.

Step 3: Fold the parchment paper towards you so that it covers the first layer of cookies.

Step 4: Place a second layer of cookies on the parchment paper.

Step 5: Repeat these steps until your shoebox is full.

Advanced Method

Step 1: Cut a sheet of parchment paper that is long enough to cover the bottom and sides of the shoebox. To determine the size, measure the box with a ruler or put the box on the parchment paper and lift the paper over the sides. If your parchment paper isn't wide enough, cut another piece and attach it using tape.

Step 2: Put your shoebox in the centre of the parchment paper. Check that the sides are even by lifting the paper up the sides of the box. The paper should reach the top of the box (or close to it).

Step 3: Place a ruler against the left side of the box. Draw a line from the top of the paper to the box. Do the same from the bottom of the paper to the box.

Step 4: Repeat these steps on all four sides of the shoebox.

Step 5: You should now have four squares on the corners of your parchment paper.

Step 6: Make the squares larger by measuring 1cm on the outside of each square.

Step 7: Cut out the four squares using the outside line.

Step 8: Fold the flaps in and crease the edge.

Step 9: The parchment paper is now ready to go in your shoebox! Lift up each of the flaps of parchment paper to cover the inside of the shoebox.

Step 10: Now your shoebox is ready to fill with cookies!
